

TechStore — Return and Refund Policy

Customers may request a return within seven days of receiving an eligible product.

Products must be returned with their original packaging and accessories.

Damaged or defective products should be reported to customer support.

Refunds are processed after the returned product has been inspected.

Products damaged through misuse are not eligible for a refund.